MMR_0363 Jack Verducci

Jack Verducci is a notable figure in the world of model railroads. He is part of the Lackawanna Railroad train layout team, where he serves as a Master Modeler. Verducci's expertise extends to designning and building garden railways.

He has authored a book entitled: How to Design and Build Your Garden Railroad that provides tips on layout planning, landscaping, structures, bridges, trestles and water features.

He and his wife, Pauline, operate the Crystal Springs Railroad & Lumber Co., a captivating garden railway inspired by systems like the South Pacific Coast and the Ocean Shore from the 1930s.

Their miniature railroad features approximately 650 feet of track, tunnels, coastal mountains, and even a scaled down version of San Mateo. Look for images and videos of Verduci's layouts online.
